Claim Objections

Claims 1, 3 and 5 are objected to because of the following informalities: in claim 1, line 3, "engage" should be --engaged--; in claims 3 and 5, "outer" should be --an outer--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Bean (US 647,435). Bean discloses a fastening device comprising a lock piece (D) disposed in a case (B) biased by a spring (c') to an engaged position and a release member (C) connected with the lock piece (at c'') and configured for manual bias toward an axial member (A) in a perpendicular direction against the spring bias to release the lock piece. While is appears from the drawings that the release member and lock piece are connected by a pin which would move in the slot (c"), it would alternatively be obvious to have use a pin to connect the release member and lock piece to facilitate movement within the slot because a pin would be optimal for the connection or at least be obvious to try because the pin would allow for both the required sliding and pivoting motion required of the connection. Furthermore, it should be recognized that the embodiments of figures 3 and 4 show embodiments wherein the release member is oriented longitudinally thus making its movement in the radial direction. The aperture which received the lock piece reads as the slope and a surface of the lock piece reads as the angled surface since there is no specific angle provided.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 5 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's remarks have been considered but, are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
